1.3 Policy

1.3.1 Campus Violence Threat Assessment Policy

Policy

<https://cam.illinois.edu/policies/fo-19/>

Purpose

The University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign is committed to a safe and nonviolent campus environment and does not tolerate acts or threats of violence. In service of these commitments, and consistent with the Campus Security Enhancement Act of 2008 (110 ILCS 12) and its companion rules at 29 Ill. Adm. Code Part 305, this policy establishes the authority of the university's Threat Assessment and Behavioral Intervention Teams and provides guidance for identifying observable behaviors or circumstances that indicate someone needs assistance, is at risk of disrupting the educational environment, or may pose a risk of violence.

Scope

This policy applies to the campus community, including all university employees, agents, students, and visitors.

Authority

The campus Executive Director of Public Safety or designee is responsible for implementing and maintaining this policy.

Policy

The University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign shall have a Behavioral Intervention Team and a Threat Assessment Team to evaluate reports of concerning behaviors that have the potential to lead to Targeted Violence. All university employees and agents must report the behaviors and indicators listed in Section I below to the Behavioral Intervention Team or Threat Assessment Team and must cooperate with requests from the teams in connection with their violence prevention and response missions.

Definitions

Behavioral Intervention Team means the multidisciplinary committee responsible for evaluating student behaviors for their potential to lead to targeted violence and for determining situation-specific response plans.

Student means any person who:

1. Has accepted an offer of admission to the university in the past 12 months;
2. Is currently enrolled in one or more courses at the university; or
3. Has been enrolled in one or more courses at the university in the past six months.

Targeted Violence means an incident of physical violence in which both the perpetrator and targets are identified or identifiable prior to the incident.

Threat Assessment Team means the multidisciplinary committee responsible for evaluating behaviors of employees and other non-Students for their potential to lead to Targeted Violence and for determining situation-specific response plans.

Processes/Procedures/Guidelines

What to Report to the Teams

The following guidance is intended to help members of the campus community identify observable behaviors or circumstances that indicate someone needs assistance, is at risk of disrupting the educational environment, or may pose a risk of violence. It is not always possible to know the significance of any single behavior taken out of context. The university's Behavioral Intervention and Threat Assessment teams rely upon the active participation of our campus community in recognizing and reporting concerning and threatening behaviors or other indicators that show an individual may be on a pathway to violence. University employees and agents with knowledge or observation of any of these behaviors or indicators must immediately report to the appropriate team:

- Violent behaviors that create a reasonable fear of physical harm, including aggressive acts and/or violent preoccupation (e.g., violent fantasies, writings, etc. that are inconsistent within a given context or classroom assignment)
- Physical attack
- Domestic/relationship violence
- Sexual assault
- Intimidation
- Property damage, particularly if driven by anger or heightened emotions
- Threats
 - Direct: "I am going to..."
 - Indirect: "If I wanted to I could..."
 - Conditional: "If you do x, then I will..."
- Veiled: "This would be a better place without you."
- Unwanted pursuit or contact (stalking)/harassment

- Fixation (increasing unhealthy preoccupation) on a person or cause, particularly if accompanied by heightened angry emotions
- Presence of protective orders (“no contact” directives or “restraining orders”)
- Troubling preoccupation with weapons; and/or presence of a weapon on campus
- Suicidal/homicidal thoughts, plans, or intent
- Paranoia or other psychological distress, particularly if accompanied by agitation or impulsivity
- Inappropriate outbursts or belligerence
- Substance abuse, particularly if accompanied by violence or other misconduct

These examples are not all-inclusive, and this information is not intended to be used as a checklist. Individuals who are concerned that another person may pose a risk of violence should contact the appropriate team even if they cannot identify specific risk factors. The Behavioral Intervention Team and Threat Assessment Team will each use information it receives in fact-based processes to evaluate reported behaviors and in development of specific response action plans.

Any individual who observes behavior that they believe may pose an imminent threat to safety, security, or health should call 911 immediately. 3.1 Behavioral Intervention Team

Focal Population: Students

- Counseling Center
- Graduate College
- Office for Student Conflict Resolution
- Office of University Counsel (advisory only)
- Student Assistance Center
- University Housing
- University of Illinois Police Department

Meeting Frequency: Weekly. Every Tuesday and as needed for emergencies.

Reporting Line: Office of the Dean of Students

Mission Statement: The multidisciplinary Behavioral Intervention Team strives to prevent targeted violence by employing a proactive, supportive, evidence-based approach to the assessment and management of threats posed, or potentially posed, by students.

General Principles:¹

1. Targeted violence is goal directed behavior rather than a sudden, impulsive act. It is the result of “an understandable and often discernible process of thinking and behavior” and can be prevented through the identification of behaviors that precede the escalation of violence.
2. Early intervention is critical in violence prevention. The earlier a concern is recognized and addressed, the easier it is to address with a broader range of intervention options.
3. Violence results from the interaction of several factors, including but not limited to the person of concern, their situation, past stressful situations, the environment, and the potential target.
4. Violence is dynamic, not static, and as such, situations must be monitored over weeks and months rather than days.
5. There is no profile or type of perpetrator of targeted violence. Threat assessment focuses on behavior, not profiles.
6. The effective utilization of systems, both on campus and in the community, is critical throughout the process of threat assessment and management. Communication between and amongst appropriate offices, departments, and resources is necessary for the receipt, evaluation, and coordinated response to evolving situations.
7. There is a difference between making a threat and posing a threat. All potential threatening behaviors are taken seriously, regardless of whether the person has expressed a threat.
8. Safety is the primary goal of threat assessment. All interventions are tools to reach this goal and not ends unto themselves.

6. Programs and Resources Related to Violence Prevention and/or Response

The following University programs (in alphabetical order) are related to violence prevention and/or response. This is not an exhaustive list. Additional information can be found at the links provided.

ACE IT

ACE IT is a program of the University of Illinois Counseling Center's Alcohol and Other Drug Program. ACE IT's goal is to help you to stay safe, be healthy, and succeed academically—whether or not you choose to drink. It's offered in partnership with New Student Programs and is mandatory for all new undergraduate first year and transfer students. Transfer students who are age 21 or over and live off campus are exempt from attending. Additional information can be located at the following link: <https://counselingcenter.illinois.edu/node/129>

Building Emergency Action Plans

The Building Emergency Action Plan (BEAP) is a document designed to assist building occupants with their emergency planning and response efforts. The BEAP includes but is not limited to: campus and building specific emergency communication systems, definition of emergency management team members and/or emergency contact lists, evacuation/shelter-in-place/lockdown procedures, concept of operations for various types of emergency situations, training and exercise schedule implementation. Additional information can be located at the following link: <https://police.illinois.edu/emergency-preparedness/building-emergency-action-plans/>.

Campus Emergency Operations Plan

The Campus Emergency Operations Plan is what we use to prepare for and respond to any kind of large-scale emergency on our campus, including both natural and man-made disasters. It outlines specific actions in support of local and Champaign County response and recovery activities. The full plan can be located at the following link: <https://go.illinois.edu/ceop>.

Emergency Dean Program

One of the resources the university makes available to students is the support and guidance of a university administrator who is on call and can be reached when university offices are closed. The Emergency Dean supports students who are experiencing health or safety emergency situations in which an immediate university response is needed and which cannot wait until the next business day. The Emergency Dean is not a substitute for trained emergency personnel such as 911, police, or fire professionals. Additional information can be located at the following link: <https://odos.illinois.edu/community-of-care/emergency-dean/>

Illini-Alert

Illini-Alert is used for incidents which present an imminent threat to life, health, or safety to the general campus population. These messages provide emergency information and instructions for personal protective actions.

Illini-Alert messages are sent via text message, email, social media and are posted to all campus homepages through the university's Emergency Web Alert System.

All current University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign students, faculty, and staff will receive Illini-Alert messages through their NetID@illinois.edu email addresses. Those with campus email addresses may enroll up to three alternative email addresses at emergency.illinois.edu. All current University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign students, faculty, and staff will be prompted to provide a cell phone number to receive emergency text messages and may register up to three cell phone numbers. Anyone may opt out, but everyone is strongly encouraged to enroll at <https://emergency.illinois.edu>. Anyone else can receive Illini-Alert messages by cell phone by sending a text message to 40404 with the text "follow IlliniAlert." Follow @IlliniAlert on Twitter and like Illini-Alert on Facebook. All faculty, staff and students can sign up for Illini-Alert emergency messages. Those not affiliated with the university can receive Illini-Alert messages by texting "Follow IlliniAlert" to 40404.

Kognito Suicide Prevention Training

The University of Illinois community cares about the well-being of every student. To ensure that students who are distressed get the support they need, the University of Illinois Counseling Center has partnered with Kognito At-Risk to provide online training simulations. We hope that each faculty/staff member and each student will participate in this Kognito At-Risk training, which will help you to better identify, support, and connect distressed students with campus services. Kognito At-Risk has the feel of a video game as you make choices about what to say and do in conversations with students who may be distressed. It takes just 30-40 minutes to complete. Choose from faculty/staff or student modules. There are also specific modules for reaching out to students who are military veterans and those who identify as transgender. Additional information can be located at the following link:

<https://counselingcenter.illinois.edu/kognito-at-risk>
